// THE STORY

SHOT. SAVED. SENT.

Mike Dragich was shot at point-blank range and left for dead. He should not have lived. Jesus had other plans. From Marine to MMA cage to the Florida swamp to the pulpit - Mike's life is a one-man case study in what God can do with a surrendered fighter.

// PREACHING REVELATION

"I was a violent man with a black heart. I was shot, left for dead, and woke up with one question. What now? The answer was Jesus. Everything I do now is just trying to keep up with what He did with me."

— MIKE DRAGICH

Mike served as a U.S. Marine in Afghanistan, lost fifteen brothers to suicide after they came home, and channeled that grief into Project Savior Outdoors - a nonprofit fighting veteran suicide and PTSD through the outdoors and the gospel of Jesus Christ. He's a licensed nuisance alligator trapper, an MMA fighter, owner of Brawler Creek Ranch in Elkton FL, a member of The Church of Eleven22, and mentored by Pastor Joby Martin.

// REVELATION 12:11

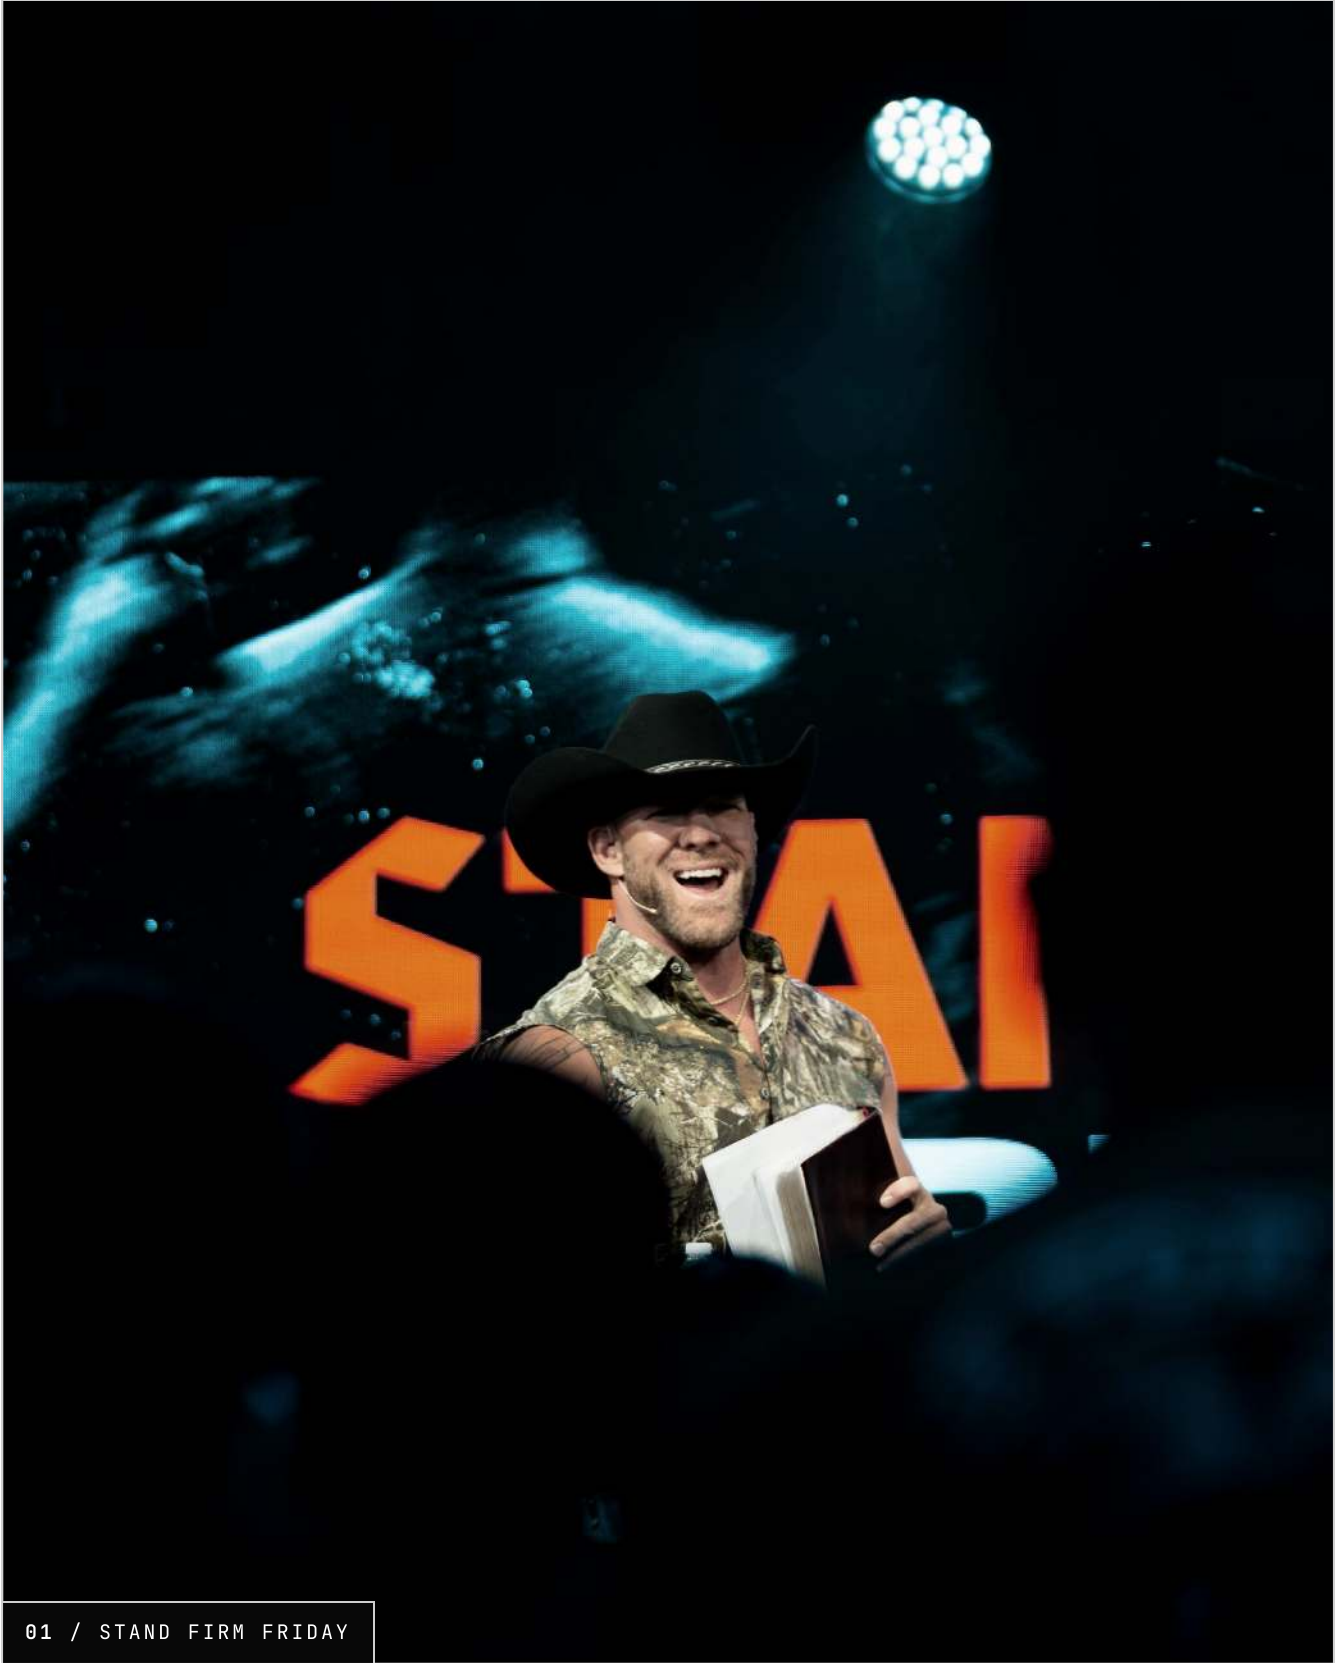

“They triumphed over him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony.”

RUN OF SHOW

Mike Dragich is a U.S. Marine veteran, mixed martial artist, and licensed Florida nuisance alligator trapper known publicly as the Blue Collar Brawler. He is the founder of Project Savior Outdoors, owner of Brawler Creek Ranch in Elkton, FL, a member of The Church of Eleven22 in Jacksonville, and is mentored by Pastor Joby Martin. Mike preaches with Marine-grade clarity on spiritual warfare, the power of testimony, and what it means to stand firm.

LONG FORM / PROGRAM

Mike Dragich is a U.S. Marine veteran who served in Afghanistan, a mixed martial artist, and a licensed Florida nuisance alligator trapper better known across the country as the Blue Collar Brawler. Years after coming home from combat, Mike was shot at point-blank range and left for dead. He should not be alive. Jesus had other plans. Out of that resurrection came a ministry: Project Savior Outdoors, a nonprofit fighting veteran suicide and PTSD by leading warriors back into the wild and into the gospel. Mike owns Brawler Creek Ranch in Elkton, FL, hosting men's retreats and rite-of-passage hunts. He is a member of The Church of Eleven22 in Jacksonville and is being mentored by Pastor Joby Martin. Whether he is preaching on spiritual warfare, the power of testimony, or what it actually looks like to stand firm in the day of evil, Mike speaks with the same directness that made him a Marine, a fighter, and a man who walks into swamps after seven-foot gators. He brings the Bible, the bullet hole, and a charge.
